AN ACCOUNT OF THE INFIRMARY
FOR THE County of York.

THE great Benefits the Diseased Poor have received from the Infirmaryes establish'd within this Kingdom, sufficiently shew the peculiar Usefulness of such kind of Charities: For though the Poor may be provided with Necessaries by the Parishes to which they belong, yet when they are Sick or Lane, convenient Lodgings, Nurses, Diet, and several other Things are absolutely necessary, and scarce ever to be had ; for want of which, even though they should be attended by proper and skilful Persons, yet they would in a great many Cases find the Endeavours of the best Physicians or Surgeons fruitless.

But besides those who are intitled to Parochial Relief, these Hospitals are intended for the Reception of many others, who, tho' not reduc'd to take the Alms of the Parish, may nevertheless become great Objects of Charity, after having, by Dint of Industry, and hard Labour, supported their Families, by accidental Hurts or Sickness becoming a Burthen to those whom they formerly maintained, and rendring a whole Family miserable.

Evils of this kind cannot otherwise be cured than by establishing Publick Hospitals for the Sick and Lame Poor, in which the Care, Neatness, Lodging, and Regularity of Diet, will in all Cases much facilitate the Recovery ; and, in the Cure of some Distempers, are more effectual than Physick itself.

These and several other Reasons, which it would be needless to urge in Behalf of a Charity, the Usefulness of which is so apparent, together with the Establishment of an Infirmary at Winchester, occasioned a

Talk

Talk of erecting one at York, for the Use of this County. Every one was convinced of the Benefit which would arise from it, and the late Lady Elizabeth Hastings, well known for her Goodness to the Poor, was pleased to declare, that if such a Charity was set on Foot, she would contribute One Thousand Pounds : But nothing being done for a long Time after, though the Talk still continued, occasioned the said Lady, when she made her Will, to leave only Five Hundred Pounds; and that on Condition that such a Charity should be set on Foot in a Time therein limited.

The Loss of Five Hundred Pounds, and the Danger of losing Five Hundred Pounds more, occasioned several well disposed Persons to meet and open a Subscription; which succeeded so well, that a House was agreed to be taken, and furnished, for the Reception of as many of the diseased Poor as it could conveniently contain. This was accordingly done, and Servants were hired, several Patients were admitted into the House, and several others who could not be admitted, were relieved by the Advice and Medicines which they received from thence.

The Numbers that were cured, and the good Usage with which they had been treated, soon gave the Infirmary a Reputation, and the Number of Subscribers and Benefactors accordingly increased.
A 2 treated,

The Legacy of Five Hundred Pounds left by Lady Elizabeth Hastings, and several other considerable Benefactions being received ; it was thought necessary to purchase a Piece of Ground in some convenient Place, in, or near the City of York, in order to erect a new Infirmary, which, being built by a Plan contriv'd for that very Purpose, in which all the Offices would be disposed in the best Manner, might be much more convenient than any House that could be hired.

A Piece of Ground near Monk-Bar was accordingly bought, and a general Meeting of all the Subscribers was appointed, to consider in what Manner, and to whom the Land should be conveyed ; when it was agreed, that the Estate should be vested in Thirteen of the Subscribers, in Trust for a Publick Infirmary for the County of York : Subject to the Regulations which should be made, for the Government thereof, by a Court of Governors, with the Consent of a Majority of the Trustees. As likewise, that the Number of Trustees should be always kept compleat, by electing new ones from amongst the Subscribers, in the room of such as should die, or resign their Trust.

This Conveyance being signed, a Committee was appointed to consider of a Body of Rules for the future Government of the Infirmary, to be reported on a certain Day, to which the Meeting was adjourned. The Report was made, and a Constitution and Body of Laws agreed to.

Soon after, a Plan for the New Hospital was designed and agreed on, and Workmen contracted with for the Building, which is now so far compleated, as to be capable of receiving Patients.

The Officers of the Hospital are at present,

Treasurer,	BACON MORRITT, Esq;
Physicians,	{ Dr. BARNARD, Dr. WINTRINGHAM.
Surgeons,	{ Mr. DRAKE, Mr. FOTHERGILL.
Chaplain,	{ The Rev. Mr. ECCLES, whose Office is to read Prayers in the Hospital, and visit the Sick.
Steward,	Mr. DAVID SMITH.
Apothecary,	Mr. OSBORNE.

A Housekeeper, or Matron, who takes Charge of all the Household Goods and Furniture; weighs and examines the Provisions, keeping a Check-Book, as well for them, as for every Thing else which comes in on the House Account; and is to take care that all the Nurses and other Servants do their Duty.

A Cook, who is to dress the Patients Victuals, according to the Diet order'd by the Physicians and Surgeons, of which she is to keep an Account, and clean all the low Rooms.

Nurses, who are to attend the Patients, and keep them in order; to see that they take their Medicines, as directed; to be accountable to the House-keeper for the Rowlers and Cloth, which they receive from her on the Patients Account; and to keep their Wards clean.

The Apothecary's Man, who is to follow the Directions of the Apothecary, to carry Messages, and do any other necessary Work which is required for the Service of the Hospital.

In-Patients, viz. Such Patients as are admitted into the House. They are not to go out of the Hospital without Leave from the Physician or Surgeon, under whose Care they are; to behave themselves decently, and assist the Servants in doing the Hospital-Work, as far as they are able, by Permission of their Physician or Surgeon.

Out-Patients, who have the Benefit of Advice and Medicines, but are not admitted into the House. They are to attend at the Times appointed by the Apothecary, bringing their own Gally-Pots and Phials for the Medicines.

The Manner of admitting Patients is as follows. The Persons who desire to be admitted are to attend on Monday or Thursday in the Morning, between Ten and Eleven o'Clock, at the Hospital, or send an Account of their Cases properly drawn up, Post paid, with Recommendations signed, pursuant to the Orders of Court, as will appear by the Rules. A Form of which Recommendation is as follows:

To

To the Governors of the Infirmary for the County of York,

Gentlemen,

I desire you will admit of the Parish of _____ to be a Patient of the County Hospital, and you will oblige,

Your humble Servant,

The Physician and Surgeon in waiting make a Report of the Complaints of those who are present, or of the Cases drawn up, as before mentioned, of those who are at a Distance, to the Governors who please to attend, who may take into the Hospital, or make Out-Patients of such as they think most proper. And as it frequently happens that there are a greater Number of proper Objects recommended, than there are Beds empty to receive; the Names, Recommendations, Places of Abode, and Cases, of such as cannot then be admitted, are registred in a Book kept for that Purpose, which is on every Day of Admission laid before the Governors. And when any Persons, whose Names are on the Book, are ordered to be taken in, Beds are from that Time kept, and Notices sent for them to come forth-with; with ; by which Means, the distant Poor have all the Advantages of those who are near, without being put to the Expence or Trouble of a personal Attendance. But it is expected that all Persons who are taken in, shall deposit the Sum of Twenty Shillings, as Caution-Money, to indemnify the Hospital from any Charge which may arise from burying or removing them ; which Money, when they go out, is to be returned.

In keeping the Accounts, the Bills or Notes which come in are all examined by the Steward with the Check-Books, which are kept by the Housekeeper or Apothecary ; if he finds they agree, after signing the Notes, they are sent to the Treasurer who likewise, if he thinks proper, may re-examine them, before he likewise sign them for Payment. The Steward and Treasurer has each his distinct Account, which is audited once a Quarter ; and once a Month is posted into the General Account Book, which is kept in a mercantile Manner, where every Article is distributed under its proper Head : This Book is kept at the Hospital for the Inspection of the Governors who please to call for it, and the whole Account is closed once in the Year, against the General Audit.

They who shall be disposed to contribute to this Hospital by their Last Will and Testament, may do it in the following Form.

Item, I give and bequeath to A. B. and C. D. the Sum of _____ upon Trust, and to the Intent that they do pay the same to the Treasurer or Steward for the Time being, of a Society who now call themselves the Trustees and Governors of the County Hospital, for sick and lame at York; which said Sum of _____ I desire may be applied towards carrying on the charitable Designs of the said Society.

Such Persons as are willing to encourage this Charity, are desired to send their Names and the Sums they please to subscribe, to Bacon Morritt, Esq; Treasurer; or to David Smith, Steward.
